

The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, May 11. 1708.

From the Brussels Gazette, dated May 11.

Hambourg, May 4.

THE 2d Instant our Magistrates notified to the College of 180, that Count Schonborn the Emperour's Minister will speedily arrive here; and 'tis laid that in case the Imperial Intervention be accepted, that Count will propose the Admission of some Troops of the Circle of lower Saxony into the City, while the Accommodation of all Differences is amicably negotiated. Those who by their Headiness excited these Troubles, begin now to repent them, fearing they shall be call'd to Account. Warning has been given on the part of the Troops of the Circle, that Quarters must be provided for them at Bergsdoß within 2 Leagues of this City, and Forrage in our 4 Bailiages for their Horse. Yesterday 2000 Lunenburghers advanc'd to Winst on the other side of the Elbe, 3 Leagues from hence. Two Companies of Hanoverians are on the march to Mollen, to be at Hand to enter our Bailiages. The Swedish Forces are likewise Approaching. The Prussians are near Lauenbourg.

From the Brussels Gazette, dated May 15.

Hambourg, May 7. We continue under great Uneasiness here, waiting the arrival of Count Schonborn the Emperour's Minister. Our Magistrates have Assembled 4 Days successively with the States of this City or College of 180, and it was propos'd among other things to place 6 Companies of Burghers before the Town-house, to prevent all Disorders; but nothing was agreed.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated May 15.

Aix la Chapelle, May 8. A Commissary from the King of Prussia is arriv'd here, to make Complaint that the Magistrates of this City offended against the Constitutions of the Empire, in letting a Troop of Dragoons, which the French had rais'd in Germany, and which the Allies design'd to sieze, go out of the City in the Night-time. He complains likewise of several other Things, and especially of our Magistrates suffering a French Party to carry off a Sum of Money belonging to the King of Prussia, which had been entrusted to their Care, and was lodg'd in the Town-House: And he demands 100000 Crowns, to make good the Damage sustain'd. This gives our Magistrates no little Uneasiness. Our Garrison is march'd out for Brussels, with the other Troops that Winter'd on the Maese.

From the Brussels Gazette, dated May 15.

Cologne, May 11. Baron Franckenberg, Major-General of Horse in the Elector of Palatine's Service, went from hence Yesterday, to imbarke at Genoa, thence to pass over to Catalonia; accompanied by the Collonel his Brother, and some Volunteers of Quality. General Count Isselbach will follow him post in a few Days. Here is arriv'd a Commissary of the Troops of the Landgrave of Hesse-Cassel, which will shortly come into our Neighbourhood, in their Way to the Maese.

Brussels, May 15. The 13th the Duke of Marlborough was at the Opera of Armida; and last Night at that of the Malade imaginaire, the Musick of which is excellent, and was compos'd purposely against his Return into this Country. All is preparing for the Opening of the Campaign, in order to which the Troops of the Allies arrive from time to time from the distant Quarters, and the Army will be form'd in a few Days. The Enemy on their part, continue likewise to draw their Troops to the Frontier; and we have Advice from Mons, that the Elector of Bavaria having sent away his Baggage and Equipage for Germany, was to set out post this Morning for the Rhine, to Command the French Army there. The 8th at Night died in this City the Count de Tirimont, one of the Council of State, and formerly Ambassador Plenipotentiary on the Part of the King of Spain at the Treaty of Ryswick, aged 84 Years.

Warsaw, April 18. The first Advices we receiv'd of an Action between the Swedes and Muscovites, have been confirm'd by succeeding Letters; which assure us, that the Swedes lost 6000 Men in the Engagement, either kill'd, wounded, or taken Prisoners. As for the Loss of the Muscovites, we have yet no certain Account, but still expect it; in the mean time these Letters say the Muscovites themselves boast, that they did not lose so many Men as they took Prisoners from the Swedes, the Number of which they give out to be above 2000.

From the Paris Gazette, dated May 12.

Hambourg, April 27. 'Tis advis'd from Olmutz the Capital City of Moravia, that the Primate of Poland who has been some time there, had receiv'd Letters from the Confederates of Sandomir in which they press'd him to return to Poland and call a great Council to take into Consideration the present State of the Affairs of the Republick; but he return'd Answer, that he could not do it without first taking due precaution for the Security of his Person, nor till they inform'd him what Points they intended to debate: And to this he expects their Reply.

From the Brussels Gazette, dated May 11.

Warsaw, April 22. The great General of the Crown, M. Siniawski Palatine of Belz, is at Jaroslow, where his Lady is arriv'd with Prince Lubomirki: She has acquainted him with the Proposals made to her by the Waywod of Kiow and by the Envoy of France, to draw him off from the Confederates of Sandomir and engage him in the Party of King Stanislaus, who would confirm him in his Office of great General, and put all the Polish Forces under his Command; but he has rejected these Offers. The Polish Troops commanded by M. Rybinski who is of the Confederacy of Sandomir, have put the greatest Part of great Poland under Contribution, taken many Prisoners, and made Excursions to the very Gates of Posen.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated May 15.

Riga, April 29. The People of the open Country retire hither; because the Muscovite Generals Baur and Stolts being come with a Body of Troops into the Swedish Livonia, are advanc'd within 18 Miles of this Place. They have Plunder'd the Castle of Nevel, and taking in it 2 Daughters of the Starost Zwinicky, have sent them Prisoners to Muscovy. They have a considerable Magazine at Scediz, and are Masters of all the River Duna. Our last Advices left the King of Sweden encamp'd at Radzokowitz not far from Borislow, being oblig'd to stay till the Grass grows up to a convenient Height, before he can advance further.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated May 17.

Dantzick, May 5. The Swedish Army had put themselves on the March towards Muscovy: But finding there was no Provision for Man or Horse to be had in white Russia, they were oblig'd to turn back again and encamp near Borislow. In the mean time the Muscovite Army, being supplied out of the Magazines erected at Polocko, Smolensko, and other Places, suffer no Want, and are advantagiously posted. 'Tis advis'd from Poland, that Prince Wiesnowski being dissatisfied with the Disposal of the chief Commands in the Army of Lithuania, seeks to be reconcil'd to the Palatine of Belz great General of the Crown-Army, which grows stronger daily. The Starost Rybinsky has block'd up Posen; the Garrison of which will be soon distress'd, unless the Swedes take care to relieve them.

From the Amst. and Leid. Gaz. dated May 15.

Letters from Leipsich of May 9, say 'twas advis'd from grows daily more formidable, and 'twas believ'd would soon undertake to drive out the Swedes that are left in Poland and Prussia.

From Warsaw of the 29th of May they write, that M. Siniawski great General of the Crown Army, perfis in his Resolution not to acknowledge King Stanislaus; but keeps up a good Correspondence with the Czar, who has promis'd him afresh to support him with all his Forces. A Detachment of 6000 Cossacks, were on the March to joyn this General, who had order'd the Crown-Army to draw together by the Middle of May. A Detachment of that Army has form'd the Blockade of Posen; which will probably oblige the King of Sweden and King Stanislaus to send back to Poland some Troops from Lithuania.
